STOCKS RALLY, THEN COLLAPSE RAPIDLY

MANY ISSUES FALL BEFORE SELLING WAVE

New Low Records for Year
Established in Downward Movement
OPENING IS LOW
Early Morning Gains Are Wiped Away as Issues
Fall 10 to 18 Points

BULLETIN
New York—(AP)—A furious selling attack launched against the leading railroad shares Tuesday wiped out the effects of an early rally in the stock market and sent scores of issues falling 10 to 18 points to new levels for the year. Losses in some of the less active stocks reached as much as 15 points.
Temporarily encouraged by indications that strong banking support had come to the aid of the market, constructive operators lost heart, as the receding tide of liquidation swept away the quoted values of high grade earlier stocks. Trading in railroads was quickly abandoned elsewhere while bear traders resumed their hammering on vulnerable industrials. United States Steel fell back to around Monday's low level and Hudson Motors tumbled almost five points to a new low for the year at 72 1/2. Universal Pipe preferred broke 15 points. Heading the downward movement of the rails were Chesapeake and Ohio, which crashed nearly eight points. Atlantic Coast line 4 1/2 and Southern railway 5 1/2, to new low ground for the year. Together with other representative shares such as New York Central, Northern Pacific, Southern Pacific Union Pacific, Lackawanna, Pennsylvania, Frisco and New Haven.

New York—(AP)—Three weeks of steadily declining stock prices were followed Tuesday by an impressive rally which carried scores of issues up two to five points in the first half hour of trading. The recovery was preceded by an irregularly lower opening, due to the execution of overnight selling orders representing the liquidation of weakened marginal accounts.
New low records for the year were established in the first few minutes of trading by such popular issues as Allied Chemical, S. S. Kresge, Woolworth, Consolidated Gas, Postum Cereal, International Nickel, Marland, U. S. Rubber and Northern American company. This undoubtedly represented necessary selling but it was soon completed and the market quickly swung upward when active bidding developed for the high priced industrial specialties. General Electric, Sears Roebuck, and Dupont were quickly pushed up four and five points above Monday's final quotations and Allied Chemical, General Asphalt, General Petroleum, Ward Baking Co. and several others advanced two points or more. Short covering operations were conducted in aggressive fashion. With the exception of Reliance Franes, which broke eight points to a new low record for the year at 4 1/2, all of the principal foreign exchanges opened higher. French francs rallied over three points to 3.42 1/2 cents and demand sterling fell from around $4.89 1/2.

REACH LOW LEVELS
About a score of issues were depressed to new low levels for the year in the first outbreak of selling. The list included such popular issues as Pittsburgh and West Virginia, Kennecott Copper, Allied Chemical, Woolworth, and American company. United States Rubber Marland and International Nickel, all of about one to two points. Strong buying support was quickly supplied for United States Steel common, and other pivotal industrials which headed upward within the first 15 minutes of trading. This immediately started a reaction in other sections of the list and brought about a general rally in which practically all shares, including those which were weak at the opening, participated.
General Electric soared 7 1/2 points before the end of the first hour and Dupont, Sears Roebuck, Woolworth, General Asphalt, and Allied Chemical were lifted three to five points, with scores of others advancing a point or more.

FATE OF ENGLISH IS UP TO HOUSE

Take Up Impeachment Proceedings for 14th Time in History

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—For the fourteenth time in its history, the house was called upon Tuesday to take up a recommendation from its judiciary committee that it initiate impeachment proceedings.
The charges this time lie against a member of the federal judiciary—Judge George W. English of the Eastern Illinois district—who is accused of "high misdemeanor in office." Of the preceding recommendations for impeachment considered, only nine resulted in conviction. The most notable case, that against President Johnson, resulted in acquittal by a single vote.
Five articles of impeachment under this general charge have been laid by the house by its judiciary committee after a year's investigation of Judge English's conduct on the bench.
Acting the capacity of a grand jury on non-criminal accusations not made by a grand jury, the house must decide whether evidence against the jurist warrants trial before the senate, which would then jury, acting only on the admissibility of testimony and final determination of guilt.
Congress, performing the highest function in the judicial system, is the only "court" that can interpret "good behavior," the sole restriction on lifetime appointments, and mete punishment for violations thereof from holding any future public office "of honor or trust" are the usual penalties. Four federal judges, impeached by the house, have averted the former punishment by resigning from office.

MAN FASTS FOR 44 DAYS TO BREAK OLD RECORD

Berlin—(AP)—Herr Jolly is the world's champion professional faster. He quit his self imposed task Monday night with 44 fasted days to his credit, with approximately $20,000 in his pocket, and internally a bad set of digestive organs. The new record exceeds by one day that previously held by the Italian Signor Mulatti.
Jolly was a physical wreck when taken out of his glass cage and rushed to a hospital where he will be fed a liquid diet, several teaspoonfuls at a time in an endeavor to get his dormant digestive organs functioning properly again. He was unable to walk but he could speak in a feeble voice. His mind seemed clear.
He weighed 130 pounds when he started his fast, and tipped the scale at around 105 pounds when he ended it. He is 25 years old.

COLOMBIA TRAIN WRECK KILLS 10, INJURES 20

Bogota, Colombia—(AP)—At least 10 persons are known to have been killed, and 20 injured in the collision Monday night of an express train bound from Bogota for Girardot and the coast, and a freight train. Two first class coaches were thrown into a river.
The express train, carrying passengers and mails for abroad, dashed at full speed into the rear end of the freight train which was standing at Corso Station.

HEAVY SNOWS, BLIZZARDS

Belie Presence Of Spring

Chicago—(AP)—Blizzard conditions, heavy snows, and rain storms blanketed an unusual area of the country for late March Tuesday, including virtually all of the central, south-western and southern states, and extending to the north to New England.
Weather prognosticators, who saw March come in like a healthy lion cub, conceded that the month was ebbling with a roar typical of the king of beasts, with Easter only five days away.
Texas probably suffered more than the other states, with the greatest snow fall in 18 years at Amarillo, where nine inches of snow covered the ground. The temperature dropped to 18 degrees above zero.
Two men were killed at Liberty, Texas, where the storm cut a path through the oil field, leveling virtually all the derricks and buildings. Rain and wind electrical storms impeded transportation and caused heavy damage in Houston, Beaumont, and other cities.
Snow was falling from Madison, Wis., on the north, central Illinois and Indiana, with the greatest fall over Kansas, northern Missouri, Omaha and northern Texas.
Topeka, Kan., reported nine inches of snow; Kansas City four inches; and Galesburg, Ill., six inches. Peoria, Ill., reported four inches and the worst storm since Easter Sunday, April 4, 1924.

New Compromise Bill For Farmers Is Apt To Carry

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1926, By Post Pub. Co.
Washington—A compromise bill designed to handle the export surplus problem of American agriculture has just been presented to the House Committee on Agriculture by George N. Peek and his associates of the committee of 22 represented in the recent conference held at Des Moines, Iowa.
This measure removes some of the objections which the administration had to proposals like the McNary-Haugen and the Dickinson bills. It embodies some of their original features but does not require the government to engage in price fixing or to subsidize agriculture.
The new bill will have the support of members of congress from the cotton states and in this way will bring about no doubt a coalition of the west and south.
The new bill does not include corn, believing that this subject should be further studied and that corn will be benefited through the encouragement of "a normal livestock population." The basic commodities taken are wheat, cotton, hogs and cattle. These are described as "the principal cash crops of American agriculture."
UNIVERSALLY INDORSED
The proposal is formally endorsed by the American Farm bureau, National Farmers Educational and Cooperative Union of America, National Board of Farm Organizations, Corn Belt Farm Organization committee, American Council of Agriculture and the North Central States Agricultural conference. These organizations have had their spokesmen before the house committee on agriculture for several days and they have responded to suggestions from members of the committee that legislation be agreed upon which will remove some of the objections of the department of agriculture and others who do not want the government to go in for price fixing.
Under the new plan, the cooperative marketing organization will be the basic structure. They will decide when crops shall be held or sold and just when the federal farm board shall put into operation each phase of the scheme.
Thus the control rests with the farmers themselves. The so-called equalization fee would be collected by the government and the federal board would administer it very much as a trustee handles a trust fund. It would involve at the start a revolving fund of $250,000,000 to take care of capital operations but this is not in the nature of a subsidy as the government would be reimbursed out of its own collections.
The small equalization charge will be collected at the manufacturing or processing point—the millers or other manufacturers of wheat, the packers or slaughterers for market in the case of livestock and the spinners or cotton millers in the case of cotton. Action can be taken by the federal board only "when the board finds there is or may be a surplus above domestic requirements and that a substantial number of associations or producers of a commodity are in favor of operation in respect to it."
U. S. BOARD'S POWER SMALL
The federal board will be a part of the department of agriculture and will have a member from each of the twelve farm land bank districts. The formal statement to the house committee points out that the federal board "cannot buy or sell directly or through agencies for its own account but that it operates through agreements with cooperative associations, or manufacturers for export whereby losses on storage, carry-over, or export transactions are compensated out of the equalization fund for each separate commodity group."
While there is no talking from what quarter serious opposition may arise to the plan sufficient in strength to defeat it, the chances are that the new plan will come nearer passage than anything that has been proposed.
In fact, at present writing the bill has better than an even chance of becoming law because it will have substantial support from many sections of the country whose numerical strength is enough to get it through the senate surely and probably through the house.

STANDARD OIL PLANS CHANGE IN DISCOUNT

Will Attempt to Make Policy Conform With Wisconsin Order

Madison—(AP)—Changes in its quantity discount policy are contemplated by the Standard Oil Co. (Ind.) to conform with the gasoline price publicity order of the Wisconsin department of markets, John D. Clark, Chicago, vice president, testified at the hearing before the committee here Tuesday. Mr. Clark testified that it was difficult to make the plan of giving discounts to large users of gasoline conform with the Wisconsin order, but that the company is attempting to develop certain changes that would make the plan satisfactory.
The department of markets proposes to issue an order prohibiting gasoline price discounts based on purchases at more than one place.
Secret price concession forced the Standard Oil Company to adopt its plan, Mr. Clark testified. Telling of the development of the quantity discount agreement and its application to multiple station deliveries, he said, it was designed to secure business which in its volume is substantial, rather than to increase gallonage. Similar trade practices exist in the sale of automobile tires, batteries and bearings he declared.
Representatives of the company testified under examination by Attorney Herman L. Ekers Monday that the discount agreement had increased the gallonage sold and that a large percentage of the contract holders purchased all of their gasoline from Standard Oil stations.

WOMAN 36 YEARS OLD IS MOTHER OF TWENTY

Fitchburg, Mass.—(AP)—Mrs. Louis M. Cross, 36 years old Tuesday, is the mother of 20 children. She gave birth to the twentieth child, a 12-pound girl, here Monday night. Mrs. Cross was married when she was 15. All the children are living.

VETERAN LEARNS THREE R'S TO ENJOY OLD AGE

Council Bluffs, Ia.—(AP)—Adam Berry, a retired farmer, at 71, is learning to read, write and "figure," so that he can avoid an "uninteresting old age" and keep his accounts straight.
Berry moved here in February from the farm nearby, where he had lived for 45 years after his wife, who had always kept their accounts and handled their correspondence, died. He applied at a business school for instruction and was turned over to Mrs. Elsie Lettis, wife of the school manager.
Reared in the back woods of Virginia, Berry never had schooling, he explains.

STATE AIMS AT DEFENSE OF JESSNER

Alleged Slayer of Madison Cop Repudiates Portions of Confession

Madison—(AP)—Cross examination, by means of which the state is seeking to break down the testimony of Rudolph Jessner, restaurant proprietor, that the fatal shooting of Policeman Palmer Thompson on Jan. 4 following his "persecution" by the police, was continued in circuit court Tuesday. Jessner is charged with murder in connection with the shooting.
Jessner admitted Monday that many of the witnesses to alleged illegal acts and misconduct of policemen, charged by him, were men or women who had been in court for drunkenness, disorderly conduct, and other offenses.
Contending Jessner was "out to get" policemen, not because they persecuted him but because they interfered with his bootlegging operations, the state cited the convictions both of Jessner and his wife.
Jessner repudiated portions of his confession as made in the county jail after the shooting and said he "talked too much in explaining things."
Asked whether he had a system of electric bells that he used when police officers came on a raid, he said, "maybe I did."
He admitted saying to a man "I am getting stuff on the officers and everything I can get helps."
He did not remember commenting on Dec. 2, 1925, the anniversary of the slaying of Patrolman Herbert Dreger, that "Dreger was shot a year ago today. Some more officers are going to get theirs."
After Jessner had said it hurt his conscience to see officers arrest "sober men" on drunkenness charges, District Attorney Phillip LaFollette asked: "Did it ever hurt your conscience to sell them moonshine that got them drunk?"
"It did" was the reply.
Jessner denied that his conduct, especially with other women, was responsible for his first wife ending her life by taking poison.

FIRE KILLS 7 AND DESTROYS COTTAGE

St. Paul, Minn.—(AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Newman and their five children were burned to death in their cabin home near Williams, Minn., an isolated inland town in the northwoods wilderness near the Canadian border.
Only meager advices of the tragedy had reached St. Paul Tuesday. Reports available said the fire occurred Sunday morning and was discovered Monday.
The bodies of Mrs. Newman, and a young daughter whose name was not learned were found on a road near their home, and investigation by neighbors disclosed the bodies of Newman and four other children in the ruins of their home. Apparently Mrs. Newman and her daughter had escaped from fire, but had succumbed to their burns before they could summon help.

DECREASE IS FIXED AROUND 25 PER CENT

Estimate Is Made by Department of Commerce in Latest Census

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—A shrinkage in the value of American farms and farm buildings from $65,716,002, 602 in 1920 to $49,546,523,759 in 1925 was estimated by the department of commerce Tuesday in a preliminary report on the latest agricultural census. The decrease amounts to a little more than 25 per cent.
Farm acreage in the same period declined from 955,883,715 to 924,889,380 acres, and the department's division of land economics calculated the decline in the average acre value of land and buildings at 22 per cent and for land alone at 28 per cent. The value of farm buildings, it explained, increased six per cent.
The 1925 figures, compared with those for 1910, indicated an increase of 35 per cent in the average farm value, but considering the drop in the purchasing power of the dollar during that interval, the economists concluded there was actually a net decline of 10 to 12 per cent during that period.
The decline during the last five years was not general, the department's experts found, the shrinkage in values having been greatest in the range country, the wheat and corn belts, and the eastern cotton states, while a slight increase was recorded in New England and the middle Atlantic states. In the mountain states the decline amounted to 41 per cent, in Iowa 34 per cent and in Georgia 40 per cent. The increase in New England was 6 per cent and in the middle Atlantic states 1 per cent. Pacific coast values remained constant.
"Collapse of the war 'land boom' with the fall of corn and hog prices, accounted largely for the decline in Iowa, the experts reported, while the decrease in Georgia was due chiefly to the boll weevil and the erodions of negro workers. In the range country and mountain states, they said, drought and the collapse of wheat prices were the leading causes.
The increase in farm values in the northwestern states was attributed to a great extent to the development of the dairy industry the favorable position respecting markets, and an increased demand for farm land for recreational purposes.

STORM KILLS 2 AND DESTROYS OIL FIELD

Liberty, Texas—(AP)—Two men were killed and a third critically injured when a storm swept a path about half a mile wide, through the south liberty oil field here at four A. M. Tuesday. Virtually every derrick and building in the path was demolished.

FATAL DUEL OVER WOMAN Bared In Doctor's Life

Asbury Park, N. J.—(AP)—Intrigues and adventures, including a fatal duel over a woman and a false stepbrother, have been revealed from the past of Dr. Edwin P. T. Osbaldeston, who at 93 stands accused of a horse theft 45 years ago.
The aged Crimean war veteran, still vigorous and full of fight, Tuesday was grateful for the promise of Governor Moore that New Jersey will not honor efforts to extradite him to Binghamton, N. Y., to face the charge.
"That's the only sensible thing to do," he said. "The whole thing's a joke."
There is nothing funny about it, however, to Deputy Sheriff S. Foster Black. The 91-year-old Binghamton law officer says:
"I don't care if this man never serves a day. I want to show people around here that Foster Black never misses his mark."
Dr. Osbaldeston says he is the son of the Earl of Onslow by a morganatic marriage. He claims to have pilfered at Aldershot, and fought in many wars.
Last night as he sat in his tiny home amidst scattered papers and documents, he admitted participation in several events credited to Dr. Edwin T. Osbaldeston, a half brother. He insists, however, that this half brother died many years ago after many escapades.
"A pretty and clever young woman secretary I had about 30 years ago" he related "was engaged to a German guardsman. He was in this country and she stole for him."
"She made her escape, took $5,000 more of my money, and sailed for Germany. I was notified by friends of hers, that if I appeared there I would be killed. It was in the nature of a challenge so in 1903 I went over, met my challenger and killed him and his second, in pistol duels."
"I was tired and exonerated." Certificates testifying to his establishment of a school of scientific massages in New York. A marriage certificate signed by Henry Ward Beecher, records a third marriage in 1880. This marriage was extraordinarily happy, say friends.

CONDITION OF PLANT WIZARD IS CRITICAL

Luther Burbank's Personal Physician Doubtful of Recovery

Santa Rosa, Calif.—(AP)—The condition of Luther Burbank, noted horticulturist, was described as "doubtful" in a bulletin issued late Monday night by Dr. Joseph H. Shaw, his personal physician.
He is waging a valiant battle against a persistent illness which has confined him to bed at his home here for the last few days.
Extreme nervousness of the patient and a seemingly constant desire to return to work in the garden, combined to make his condition "doubtful" Monday night, Dr. Shaw said.
Dr. Shaw's bulletin, issued verbally at 11:30 p. m., said:
"Mr. Burbank is resting fairly comfortably with short periods of refreshing sleep more or less disturbed by occasional hiccoughing. Owing to his extreme age and intense nervousness, his condition is doubtful." This statement was taken to mean that the length of time for Mr. Burbank's recovery was uncertain.
Dr. Shaw said Mr. Burbank was suffering no pain. Two nurses are in attendance at his bedside. Mr. Burbank is 77 years old. The plant wizard has recently received numerous communications commenting on his recent statement that he was an "invalid" and he attempted to give these his attention.
Mr. Burbank was seized with a heart attack last Thursday night and has been confined to bed since.

PARIS CAN'T PAY DEBT IF GERMANY RENIGS

Paris—(AP)—France can make no settlement of the inter-allied debts that are not based in some measure on reparation payments from Germany, Finance Minister Peret declared in the course of his speech opening the debate on the financial measures in the chamber of deputies Tuesday.
These terms, the finance minister added, should include a safeguarding clause that would give France protection should Germany at any time default.
The chamber listened calmly to M. Peret's speech and to the speech of the finance commission which preceded it.
The first incident came when the two communist deputies elected from the second district of Paris Sunday took their seats amid applause from the communists and whistles and cat calls from the right.
Finally when the communists began singing the Internationale, M. Herriot, president of the chamber, found it necessary to suspend the session.

ANDREWS WILL ALLOW TONIC FOR 6 MONTHS

Permits for Manufacture Are Granted Two Large Breweries LIMIT ONLY VOLUME

New Beverage Will Be Accessible at Public Drug Stores

Washington, D. C.—Medicinal beer comparable in alcoholic content to the pre-prohibition beverage will be accessible to the public for the next six months at least.
The new "health booster" which Anheuser-Busch, Inc., of St. Louis, and the Pabst Brewing company of Milwaukee have been given permission to manufacture, is expected to be accessible to the public at drug stores about the time the senate judiciary committee gets under way with its hearing on bills destined to release the old-fashioned beverage from present Volstead law restrictions.
The only restriction on sale of the malt tonic will be the number of cases drug stores may handle. The permits granted the two brewing companies by Assistant Secretary Andrews of the treasury allow an alcoholic content of 3.75 per cent by volume.
From five to 25 cases may be furnished drug stores weekly, according to their size, and no prescriptions will be required of consumers who feel the need of more and better health.
The "kick" from the healthy wet's standpoint lies not in the alcoholic content but in the warning that the tonic won't behave pleasantly if treated as a beverage. Instead of seven to 10 per cent of malt solids as in pre-prohibition beer, it will contain 25 per cent. As a result, officials explained, excessive drinking of the tonic will produce illness. The difference in alcoholic content is much less pronounced, pre-prohibition beer having contained from 3 to 3 1/4 per cent by volume.
The permits for manufacture and sale of the tonic were issued for six months, and provided that the brewers should assist the government in keeping it out of the hands of bootleggers. Wholesalers already have been asked to assist in the enforcement of this provision.

SISTER OF THE LATE POPE PIUS X IS DEAD

Rome—(AP)—A life time of self-denying devotion to religion, was ended with the death of Anna Sarto, youngest sister of the late Pope Pius X, after two months illness and a difficult operation.
Anna, 76, was a spinster. She died almost in poverty in the tiny apartment facing St. Peter's square, in which she had lived for many years, with Maria Sarto, now the only surviving sister of Pius X.
From the days when Pius X was a simple chaplain at Tombo, Anna kept house for him following him through the various steps of his career until he became Pope, when she was torn between joy over his supreme honor of suffering at her separation from her brother's pontificate and after his death, she continued to live in extreme retirement, devoting herself to making clothes for poor children and orphans. Condolences were expressed to the surviving sister Tuesday by both the pope and Italian government.

S. R. O. SIGN AT TRIAL OF MEN ON ASSAULT CHARGE

Dukwin Tells Jury How Bogan and Muench Chased Him to Mackville

Trial of Wilbur Bogan, Little Chute, and George Muench, Appleton, charged with assault with a dangerous weapon, assault with intent to rob and assault and robbery by George Dukwin, Appleton, was started Monday morning before a crowd which filled the circuit court chamber to overflowing. Judge Theodore Berg of the municipal court presided at the trial.

Spectators at the trial, which opened at 9 o'clock, started arriving at the courthouse at 7:30 in the morning, and by 9 o'clock the room was filled. Some of the spectators stood on chairs behind the groups in the doors and still others filled the balcony above the room and crowded out over the railing. Court attendants said more than 600 persons were present. About 140 cars were parked on the four streets around the building while the trial was under way.

George Dukwin, the complainant, was the first witness called by the state and he told a story of how Bogan and Muench had chased him to Mackville on Feb. 12, brought him to Appleton and threatened to put him under the ice unless he came across. He said he told them he had no money with him but would give them more if they accompanied him to his rooming house above the Pekel soft drink parlor at 229 N. Richmond at which they did. Here he alleged they were frightened away when the Pekel and his housekeeper, Mrs. Selma Mulko, appeared.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hovey of Mackville testified as to the chase which ended at Mackville. Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Pekel, proprietors of the residence in which Dukwin lives, his housekeeper, Mrs. Mulko, and Mrs. Pauline Rueben, Mr. Pekel's mother-in-law, testified concerning Dukwin's return to his home with Muench and Bogan accompanying him. Mrs. Mulko, who opened the door to admit the three men, occupied the stand most of the morning testifying for the state and undergoing a severe cross-examination by the defense attorneys. As to whether she had seen a revolver in Bogan's hand when she opened the door.

The case was adjourned until 1:30 Tuesday afternoon with one state witness still to be called after which the defense was to take up its work. It was expected that the case would go to the jury late in the afternoon.

Girls of Kimberly school testified during the hearing and a number of large residents and others connected with Mr. Olson in an educational way took the stand as character witnesses.

Must Know Ways Of Trout To Be Expert Fisherman

BY R. A. CLAFLIN

In former years when the trout season opened April 15th instead of May 1st as it does now, if the fishermen wanted fish he really had to use bait, as a rule, of some other kind than artificial flies. Let us consider why this was so. Usually the season was not far enough advanced to encourage evolution of the early specimens of larvae common to our trout streams. For that reason, then, nature causes the trout at this time to feed on the manifold specimens of life in their larval stage.

As soon however as the larvae have advanced a step, floated to the surface and become pupae—the third stage—the inclination of his majesty, fontinalis, changes and he no longer is interested in anything imitating an insect in the larval stage. This does not apply, of course, to all insectivorous life nor is the instinct of the trout infallible. But let us consider for the present the lepidopterous insects, for example the various Millers, Caddis Flies, Butterflies, etc.

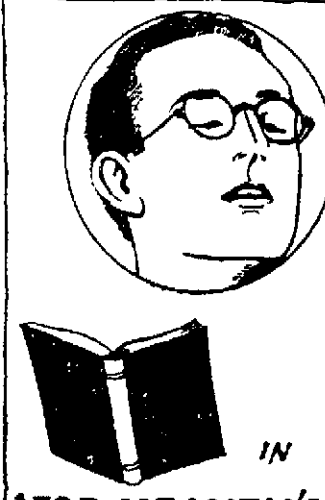

Generally speaking, the instinct of the trout, not intelligence is governed entirely by nature. In other words, when nature brings forth from the egg the larva, it creates at the same time in the trout the instinct to seek this larva as a food. This then is the reason why to be a successful fly fisherman, one must acquire a more intimate knowledge of the ways of the trout and of its food. Until that point has been reached it is not fair for a bait user to criticize the fly expert. There will be no criticism of the run, the angle worm, grub or meat baiter, for those who have graduated to a higher class know full well their efficacy.

Many of you know the Caddis Fly, and the four winged fly known as Cordulids cornuta which evolves from the well known Hilarimorpha, or Dobson. Let us consider the Caddis Fly. If you are not familiar with the mature specimen you no doubt have noticed small, stick-like things adhering to logs or rocks in the streams. If you detect and break open one of these cases you will discover a small, yellow worm therein. This is the larva of the

Field Artillery Organization Dedicates Holy Week Program to City's Pastors

A huge audience greeted the 120th Field Artillery band in its first sacred concert Monday evening in Lawrence Memorial chapel. Judging from the sentiment expressed after the program followers of the band and Appleton music lovers feel the band members are fully as capable of presenting a sacred concert in finished style as they do a program of secular numbers.

The concert was given in honor of the pastors of Appleton churches. Mr. Maum expressed his appreciation of the way in which the pastors had cooperated in making the program a success by urging members of their congregations to attend.

The outstanding selection on the program was "In a Monastery Garden" by Albert W. Ketel with a special echo effect arranged by Captain Fred B. Roberts of this city. Other impressive numbers included Rossini's "Stabat Mater" and "Procession of the Knights from Wagner's opera, "Parsifal." Isabel Wilcox, soprano, who sang "The Little Road Through Nazareth" and "Cry Aloud" was especially well received. She was accompanied on the organ by La Vahn Maesch.

Before the concert, program Dr. J. A. Holmes, pastor of the First Methodist church gave a short talk in behalf of the clergy of the city, expressing their appreciation for the concert dedicated to them and commending the band for working out the sacred concert and presenting it during Holy week.

RUSH FOR LAKE FRONTAGE GAINS STRENGTH DAILY

Fabulous Prices Are Being Paid for Desirable Recreation Spots in Northern Wisconsin

Recent developments in sales of lands, both with and without lake frontage throughout the northern part of Wisconsin are regarded by some real estate men as an indication of one of the greatest land rushes in the northern part of the country.

Land sales are numerous and where it was once possible to get property with lake frontage from fifty cents to ten dollars an acre it is reported difficult now to get any sort of land, whether on a lake or not, for less than $40 an acre.

Recent land sales throughout the northern part of the state have been made public, showing that prices of lake frontage land have doubled, tripled, and even been raised to four and five times what they were two months ago.

Land which brought $1,700 three years ago, recently was sold for $15,000. One $50,000 deal has been consummated. Deals involving $5,000 are becoming more frequent.

Citizens of northern Wisconsin, returning from visits to Florida, prophesied that land values there would increase. They asserted that northern Wisconsin, with its lakes and streams for fishing during the spring and summer, with its woods for hunting during the fall, and its hills and snow during the winter, offers a year round attraction to tourists.

That the value of land in northern Wisconsin is becoming known throughout the country is indicated by letters being received by county treasurers and county registers of deeds from men who live so far away that they can not come in person, but want land saved for them.

One letter, from the writer in Minnesota, stated that the farmer in Minnesota at the present time to come and see for himself, but that he did not want to be "left out." A check for $25 was enclosed with the explanation that the farmer would arrive as soon as he was able to make the trip and that he wanted the $25 to be an option on land which he would pick upon his arrival.

Chicago men are purchasing land surrounding lakes. Isolation often is desired by those seeking vacation spots.

When the Indian territory on the Lac du Flambeau from the village of Lac du Flambeau, the rush for allotments of land resembled to some degree a gold rush. Snowshoes, snowmobiles, skis, and horses were impressed into the service of the persons who sought land on the reservation. Lots appraised by the government agents at $5,000 brought $8,200. Others, appraised at lower sums, brought twice the amount of the appraisal.

The buying of all the land around the lake and then shutting that lake off from others not so fortunate, is disapproved by the local authorities. In some counties steps are being taken to prohibit it.

At the next meeting of the county board of Ashland county a resolution submitted by the county road and bridge committee, will be voted upon. The resolution, in brief, provides that four roads, on or about the four points of the compass, and connecting with a county or a state trunk highway, shall be laid out immediately.

District Postmasters' Executive Committee Holds Its Meeting Here

The annual convention for the Wisconsin State League of District Postmasters will be held at La Crosse from June 21 to June 23. It was decided at a meeting of the league's executive committee at the Conway hotel here Monday afternoon. The meeting was attended by W. H. Fieberger, Kimberly, president of the league; W. A. Koch, Brillion, secretary; Elmer Tricky, Vesper, and F. H. Cushman, Shiocton.

The league is composed of postmasters of third and fourth class postoffices and the convention will be held in the same city and at the same time as the annual meeting of the Wisconsin Association of Postmasters, composed of postmasters of first and second class offices.

It was reported at the executive committee meeting that the league now has a membership of 337, the largest in its history. There are about 600 third and fourth class postoffices and about 140 first and second class postoffices in the state, it was said.

Sour Stomach

"Phillips Milk of Magnesia"

Better than Soda

Instead of soda hereafter take a little "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

For fifty years genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. It neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges the souring waste from the system without purging. Besides, it is more pleasant to take than soda. Insist upon "Phillips." Twenty-five cent bottles, any drug store.

COUNTY RELIEVED OF POOR CHARGE BILL

Either Marinette-co or the village of Niagara is liable for the poor claim of a resident of Combined Locks who had brought his claim to the Locks authorities, according to John E. Hantschel, county clerk, and John A. Lonsdorf, district attorney, who were in Marinette Saturday to investigate the claim.

The Combined Locks man had formerly lived in Niagara and his claim for poor aid in this county had puzzled the county poor committee when it was brought up at the last board meeting. Mr. Lonsdorf was asked to take the matter up with Marinette-co authorities.

The Marinette-co authorities admitted that it was a just claim but were undecided whether the village of Niagara or the county is liable. They asked Mr. Lonsdorf to submit his bill for services and expenses and said that the entire matter would be taken care of. They asked for 10 days time to straighten out the matter of liability.

MENACES TO PEACE

In a streaming head line across the first page of a Chicago newspaper we read: "Nap Colony Menace to U. S. and then in a secondary head, "Capital (Washington) Fears Hostile Base at Magdalena Bay." On the same day we note in another Chicago newspaper a flaring headline across the first page: "World Soviet to Conquer U. S.—Trotsky." Tomorrow it will be "League of Nations Menaces U. S." or "British Diplomacy Imperils U. S." or "U. S. on Eve of Break with Mexico."

These are samples of propaganda, for it is nothing but propaganda with which the people of the United States are fed every day in the year, calculated to make them apprehensive of America's world contacts. That the propaganda is rubbish is shown by the fact that none of these scares ever develops. Nor is any likely to.

There is the studied effort in certain quarters of American political and economic life to foster an exaggerated nationalism that would repel frank and co-operative relations with other nations. It is on a par with the jingo nationalism of Europe that bred militarism, deadly rivalry and the suspicion and false egoism that lead to war.

Those newspapers and writers which are constantly brandishing the swords of other nations over the head of Uncle Sam, where no swords exist, are a greater menace to peace than all of the sinister designs combined that their fertile imaginations attribute to the nations of the world.

The way to insure peace is to talk peace, think peace and to cooperate for fulfillment.

THE PROOF OF THE PUDDING

Payments of federal income taxes have already passed the $150,000,000 mark. It is expected the month will close with a total of $175,000,000. The treasury department's estimate for this period, before the tax was collected, was $400,000,000, so that the receipts presumably will be approximately $75,000,000 above that.

The taxes now in hand are in excess of the total amount collected in March last year when the rates on incomes of individuals were higher. All of which goes to show that the treasury department has maintained, that reduced taxes and the prospects of further reductions are a material aid in accelerating business. The larger receipts this year, in spite of the reduction in rates, are due solely to the fact that productive enterprise has been more successful. Excessive rates smother business. Lower but still high rates retard business. Low rates quicken it.

During the time Mr. Mellon has been secretary of the treasury we have had a highly intelligent administration of the nation's finances. Some fantastic or unthinking persons have criticized it, wishing to penalize rather than promote national prosperity but the results speak for themselves.

THE TUBERCULIN TEST

The department of agriculture at Madison comes unreservedly to the support of the tuberculin test for cattle. "It may not be 100 per cent perfect," says John D. Jones, Jr., commissioner of agriculture, "but it is close to it." In an interview he goes into the subject of cattle testing at length, and the record of its application in Wisconsin which he presents should leave no doubt in the minds of farmers as to what course they should follow. The far-sighted farmer will lose no time in co-operating with the state and federal government in eradicating tuberculosis from Wisconsin herds. They should not suffer themselves to be misled by irresponsible persons who are trying to obstruct or defeat the test.

MAKING A LAME DUCK OF COOLIDGE

Senator Norbeck's unsensational victory last Tuesday in the South Dakota primaries is the first of a series of preliminary elections which will continue all spring and summer.

There will be one primary in April—that of Illinois on the thirteenth, when local influences, as an ostensible issue, will strive to defeat Senator McKinley of that state by condemning his vote for the World court. There will be a wet-dry fight in the Illinois Democratic primaries, and another and far more important one in Republican Pennsylvania May 18 where that eminent modificationist, Boss William Vare of Philadelphia, has just entered the senate lists against Pepper and Pinchot. The latter pair of established dyes supposed they could fight it out between themselves on the grounds chiefly of Pepper's staunch administration support vs. Pinchot's aid to the striking miners, the voters taking their choice.

With these possible exceptions the vote in other Republican states should hinge pretty largely on the issue whether Mr. Coolidge shall be permitted to become a lame duck president for the final two years of his term.

That unfortunate result is by no means impossible of achievement. It is only necessary to point out that South Dakota, though it gave President Coolidge a 4 to 3 majority over LaFollette in 1924, sent back the insurgent Norbeck in Tuesday's primary; that Iowa is expected to return Senator Brookhart a victor over the president's ally, Senator Cummins, on June 7 if Brookhart's seat is turned over to Steek at the present session; that a lively contest is in sight for the scalp of Senator Lenroot of Wisconsin on September 7, and that it would not take very many reverses to restore the senate insurgents to a commanding position where they could snag the administration program.

The senate, it will be remembered, is the body least affected by the Coolidge landslide in 1924 and hence still close to the borderline. It has fifty-six nominal Republicans, a Farmer-Laborite and thirty-nine Democrats. A swing of eight insurgents evens the count on any measure where Democratic opposition is united.

So the case in every state is really that of loyalty to the constructive Coolidge program vs. purposeless destructivism. The opponents of the president and his policies have really nothing to offer except an opportunist effort to bring his plans to naught. Herbert Hoover, who politically perhaps is the most independent of the leaders in the Coolidge cabinet, stated in a Grand Rapids address before the 1922 primary that he was going to vote Republican for the simple and sufficient reason that the Republicans happened to be in power and embarked upon a sane administrative program he did not want to see halted. The same sentiment ought to apply in 1926.

Certainly no small local wet-dry victory or World court "revenge" would be worth the price of a lame duck two years—for lame duck periods, it is well to remember, can be quite as hard on the country as they are on the balked administration.

TODAY'S POEM

By HAL COCHRAN

The model's nineteen-seventeen; it's lines are out of style. But, anyway, it's MY machine, and I have cause to smile. I bought it in the good old days, when auto's were the thing. And now I'm standing, glad to praise, 'cause, gosh, I've had my fling.

There was the time when folks would stare, when I went chuggin' by. My friends all thought that I was there. I used to catch their eye. Of course a lot of time has passed. My auto's head is bowed. Right now it's not so highly classed, and people laugh out loud.

I hop right out and crank the bus, and then the engine dies. I never have to stop and fuss like lots of other guys. Of course I need not use a horn. My engine knocks so strong that people know, from right to morn, I'm comin' right along.

Go on, you folks, who have new cars, and split your sides with laughter. Why I don't mind your "har, har, har," that, where I go, trail after. I know my car's a circus clown and rouses lots of pity. But when your cars are broken down—I'll still be ridin' pretty.

Bobbled hair is like some other modern conveniences. It isn't the initial cost, it's the upkeep.

A real friend is one who will help you, without looking as if he thinks you are so ignorant.

SEEKING IS BELIEVING

Some people, like the rustic having his first look at the giraffe, do not believe a thing when they see it.

A short cut healer cultivates prospects by telling them that science is a big joke and Pasteur was a faker and that there is nothing in this "germ theory" and then he clinches the argument, to the mind of the person who patronizes freak healers, by asking "if one fellow catches the disease from another, where did the first fellow get it?" The short cut healer is too foxy to ask that about cooties, or fleas, or ringworm, or the itch. At that he would probably "explain" the itch by saying that waste matter or impurities cause the skin rash, when they are "thrown out" of the system, and that would seem plausible enough to his child minded customers. He "explains" small pox and measles that way.

Women today are two inches taller than women were only three generations ago.

Young men well trained physically are breaking records every season.

Young women are smashing both records and traditions.

The woman today is far better fitted for motherhood than her grandmother or even her mother was.

Please don't stop, look or listen.

But it certainly resembles evolution, doesn't it? Never mind. There is no answer.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Wonderful

I am wondering what can be done for excessive perspiration under the arms. (Postoffice box.)

Answer—Wonderful if true. Few postoffice boxes can wonder.

White Corpuscles

What is the function of the white corpuscles that are not phagocytes? (C. P.)

Answer—They wander around in the tissues and pick up waste or detritus here and there, they help in the absorption of fats from the intestine, contribute something to the process of clotting of the blood. Physiologists have recently assumed that the white corpuscles are little glands and that they serve to keep the plasma (fluid part of the blood) supplied with just the right proteins.

More Calories

Kindly give the correct caloric value of an average helping of bacon and eggs, one slice of brown bread or white bread, and one apple. (S. R.)

Answer—An egg yields 75 calories; average slice of bacon, about 250 calories; slice of white or brown bread, 40 calories; and an apple, 60 calories. An average restaurant order of bacon and eggs yields 600 calories.

Bimbo Coming

Can you tell me where to obtain books on the care of a newborn baby and the care of an expectant mother? (Mrs. S. A. W.)

Answer—Send 5 and 10 cents, respectively, to the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C., for copies of "Pre-Natal Care" and "Infant Care" issued by the children's bureau of the labor department.

Poor Substitute For Milk

The public schools in our town give young children each day at the expense of parents a glass of milk. My 7 year old girl had nephritis a year ago. In her room they give chocolate milk instead of milk. Her teacher says she must take the chocolate milk instead of milk if the majority of the class prefer it. (R. W. G.)

Answer—It is a poor substitute for milk, but if the teacher insists on it, perhaps it is because the school medical inspectors or the health department authorities have approved. If it is not good for your daughter, a note from your physician would strengthen out the matter.

---that's all there is to life

There are 20,000,000 autos in the United States—or one to every family. Botten distribution somewhere, 'cause I know a family that hasn't got one.

What? Only twenty million machines all told? Why, most of us have dodged more than that.

Most men know about half as much as they think their wives think they do—or about twice as much as said wives actually give them credit for.

He never hugged his lady fair. He thought it out of taste. The evening was the only thing that ever went to waste.

NOW, HONESTLY—The man who invented tomorrow was a great kiddier.

And, sooner or later, we all find it out.

It's like the fellow who referred to the "sweet little skunk."

There ain't no such animal. Waiting for tomorrow is something perpetual. Today, of course, was tomorrow—but it isn't. Tomorrow is.

For instance, you go to sleep tonight and say, "I'll see ya tomorrow." Then you wake up in the morning and find out you were all wrong. Done-done-it, it's today—not tomorrow.

So—let's put off till tomorrow, all the things we shouldn't do today.

If you can figure this all out, you get a gold medal . . . tomorrow.

If it weren't for the early settlers credit houses would have a heck of a time.

YOUNGSTER: With daddy's. MOTHER: How many times have I told you to hang them up?

Three Noted Artists Sing In Oratorio

By means of her refined artistry, splendid musicianship, opulent voice and engaging personality, Isabel Richardson, noted Chicago dramatic soprano, who will be one of the soloists for the Easter oratorio, the "Stabat Mater" next Sunday evening at Lawrence Memorial chapel, has achieved considerable distinction as an oratorio and recital artist in the last few years. Miss Richardson's powerful high voice, clear enunciation and intelligent and sympathetic manner will make her work in "Stabat Mater" one of the outstanding features of the great choral festival concert. Other soloists who will take part in the oratorio are George S. Cuthbertson, tenor, and Barbara Wait, contralto, both of Chicago.

Mr. Cuthbertson is an artist of wide experience in the concert life in Chicago. He possesses a voice of extremely fine quality, produced in so easy a way as to always retain its refined and artistic qualities. He is well schooled in the traditions of oratorio singing.

Miss Wait has had much experience in oratorio singing as well as soloist in concert and recital. She has been soloist for the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra on several of its tours.

A chorus of about 200 voices will take part in the oratorio. The choruses from the several churches sponsoring the festival will be augmented by the school cantors of Lawrence college, in which there are many trained voices. Carl J. Watterman, dean of Lawrence Conservatory of Music, will direct the oratorio.

Sore throats need this Double-Treatment

YOUR sore, itching throat probably needs the soothing, healing vapors that arise from Vicks VapoRub when it is rubbed over throat and chest at bedtime. And Vicks acts two ways at once:

- (1) It is vaporized by the body heat and inhaled right to the inflamed air passages, loosening the phlegm and easing the difficult breathing;
- (2) At the same time it warms and stimulates the skin like an old-fashioned poultice, "drawing out" the pain and soreness and thus helps the vapors inhaled to relieve the congestion.

Good for the colds of all the family.

Salesgirls Dread Bargain Days

Louisa was tired. From morning until night she had been on her feet in the busy department store. No matter how she felt, she must serve her customers with a smile. Her head throbbed and her feet ached. Week after week, she felt her strength ebbing until she was in a run-down condition, not fit to work.

"My mother suggested that I try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound," she writes. "I took only three bottles and it brought me about all right." Through the Vegetable Compound, she found better health to do her work and she told the other girls about it.

That was several years ago. Louisa is now Mrs. L. J. Van Dyke of 1246 Spring St. Morrell Park, Baltimore, Md. She is the mother of three healthy, active children. She says that she found the tonic effect of the Vegetable Compound helpful to her during this entire period.

Every working girl knows that to do her work properly and easily she must have good health. She can not afford to lose time from her work.

Girls who suffer from a run-down condition should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

THIS WIFE KNEW HOW TO HANDLE ERRANT HUSBAND

Wives' here's a tip on how to handle a too playful husband—that is, a husband who is too playful outside his own home. Just make him jealous and when he begins to tear his hair and talk about divorce, just smile, tell him nothing and say, "Fifty-fifty what is sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander." Of course, it might not work with every man, but in the new movie picture, "Fifty-Fifty," when Hope Hampton as the wife, outwits her rival brings hubbly to time and puts so many things in his mind to wonder about that he hasn't time to think up any mischief for himself.

"Fifty-Fifty" will be the attraction at the New Bijou theater Wednesday and Thursday and features, in addition to Miss Hampton, Lionel Barrymore, Louise Glaum, Arthur Donaldson and other well known players. It is directed by Henri Diamant Berger, a French producer.

The small group of continental directors now so successfully producing pictures in America. M. Berger is one of the particularly keen understanding of human nature to his time. The story is a sophisticated one has its scenes laid in Paris, and New York. Many big dramatic moments are promised as well as an undeciphered satire.

LEATRICE JOY'S NEW STAR VE HICLE A BEAUTIFUL SPEC- TACLE

Nothing is done in a small way in modern motion picture production. When "The Ten Commandments" and "The Road to Yesterday" were filmed it was believed the ultimate way of massive screen settings had been reached.

It seems however that this conjecture was wrong. The big sets in those pictures have not only been equaled in splendor and magnificence but possibly surpassed by Paul Sloane in his production of "The God of the Temple." Made for Love which comes to the Fischer's Appleton Theatre next Thursday.

In this tremendous picture, a young man called for several giant statues before the throne of Pharaoh. The throne itself rises to a height of sixty feet and provides one of the largest seats of monarchy ever built for picture purposes.

The story tells of an American architect who discovers a rich tomb in Egypt and who in his enthusiasm neglects his wife. She finds consolation in the society of other men but this involves her in trouble. An Egyptian prince plots the death of her husband and in the subsequent destruction of the treasure filled tomb the couple find the road to happiness.

Edmund Burns plays opposite Miss Lou Bertina Grassby and Ethel Wales are featured members of the supporting cast. Brandon Hurst has the strong role of Pharaoh in the ancient Egyptian sequence which is as beautiful as it is massive and impressive.

RESUME T. B. TEST IN OUTAGAMIE-CO MONDAY

GUARANTEES OF INDEMNITY ARE GIVEN FARMERS

Work Is Continued After an Inactivity of Two Weeks When Funds Failed

Area tuberculosis tests of cattle in Outagamie-co were resumed Monday morning after nearly two weeks of inactivity in the work because funds appropriated for paying indemnity on slaughtered cattle for the year ending July 1, 1926, were exhausted. Sufficient guarantees now are on hand to complete the work in Outagamie-co, Dr. B. H. Borman, head of the work in this county, said Monday.

Many farmers had their cattle tested after the state and federal funds for the work were exhausted but this was done on guarantees of indemnity from dairy companies. No promises have been made, now that the guarantees are partly restored, that the milk dealers will receive a refund from the state for indemnities by them, but it is understood that such will be the case. Governor John J. Rhame recently stated that he would favor such a step.

Madison—(AP)—The Wisconsin territory that supplies Chicago with a large share of its milk already is expanding as a result of the demand for pure milk, reports reaching the state department of markets indicate.

While the effect of the Chicago ordinance placing a ban on milk from areas that have not been tested for bovine tuberculosis is being watched by agricultural authorities, milk distributors of the Illinois city are making contracts for supplies in sections outside the present area. The Chicago ban becomes effective April 1.

Fresh milk already is being shipped from Wausau and other points in northern Wisconsin to Chicago. Math Michels, dairy expert of the department of markets said. Most of the Chicago milk supply from Wisconsin has been shipped from southern counties.

Florida also is a customer for Wisconsin milk. Two tank cars of the fluid are shipped each week from Marshfield. B. R. Jones, of the department of markets said, and other points are contributing the southern shipments.

The situation resulting from the new Chicago regulations and the announcement of the state department of agriculture that indemnity payments to owners of condemned cattle will be curtailed is expected by the marketing experts to have little effect on the dairy industry of this state.

While producers in northern Wisconsin, where the tuberculosis tests have been made, probably will take advantage of the opportunity to ship their product to Chicago, Mr. Michels said, more of the milk of the southern producers probably will be diverted into the manufacture of dairy products, such as cheese. The situation, he said, may result in the reopening of a number of cheese factories in southern Wisconsin.

SITUATION TEMPORARY

The situation is regarded as only temporary. Edward Nordman, state commissioner of markets, has cautioned Wisconsin farmers against discriminating the creamery or cheese-planting. He thinks it is all right to supply the demand for fluid milk, provided the other branches of the dairy industry remain intact. The increased demand for milk in Chicago will only continue for a limited time until the cows in the Chicago dairy belt are inspected and the tubercular ones replaced by healthy stock.

Rock-wool will be able to take full advantage of the new regulations, Hugh Hemmingsway, secretary of the Rock-wool Farm Bureau stated. The tuberculin test has advanced to a stage that will enable the Rock-wool farmers to provide local plants of Chicago companies with all the milk that they can handle, he declared.

Mr. Hemmingsway said that the Clinton, Brooklyn and Janesville plants of a Chicago dairy company would be ready to handle the milk of Rock-wool farmers as usual when the new regulations become effective April 1.

INVEST COUNTY FUNDS, DON'T DEPOSIT THEM

Madison—(AP)—County funds that are not intended for immediate use should be invested in bonds or other securities, Michael J. Dunn, assistant attorney general, has advised Pottsville, Colliery, district attorney of Adams-co. The opinion was given in connection with a building fund set aside in Adams-co. The attorney general ruling that the fund should not be deposited in a bank.

Poultrymen Prepare For World Poultry Congress

Ottawa—Poultrymen of the United States and Canada are already making preparations to make the Third World Poultry Congress a big success.

The Congress is to be here from July 27 to August 4 in 1927 and is the first one to be held in America. It will be the most thorough-going attempt ever made to get together in one place the best thought on every phase of poultry production.

The president of the congress is Edward Brown of London, England, for many years the best known authority on poultry in Great Britain.

Those who attend the congress, which is held every three years, bring together all new ideas on production, distribution and consumption of poultry products. Manufacturers exhibit the newest appliances and utensils and an attempt is made by those interested in the industry to give consumers the best information regarding the wisest use of poultry products.

The meeting will be under the auspices of the International Association of Poultry Investigators.

Every branch of the American poultry industry will be represented and this includes the federal and state departments of agriculture, colleges of agriculture and numerous organizations. The American Association of Investigators and Investigators in Poultry Husbandry, the American Poultry Association and the International Baby Chick Association will all hold their 1927 annual meetings at Ottawa during the congress.

The program will be divided into four sections: (1) breeding, (2) sanitation and hygiene, (3) marketing of produce, (4) instruction, nutrition and general management.

Exhibits of live birds from many countries will be shown at the congress. There will be educational exhibits and many exhibits and demonstrations by manufacturers. An opportunity will be afforded to compare the methods and equipment developed in those countries which have been giving the most thought to this important industry.

TUBBS HERD HAS HIGHEST RECORD

Averages 42.3 Pounds Butterfat in Cicero - Black Creek C. T. A.

The herd of 10 cows owned by Frank Tubbs led the Cicero-Black Creek C. T. A. in butterfat production for March with an average of 42.3 pounds. The average milk production of the herd was 12.47 pounds. The second highest producing herd was that belonging to Arnold Stephoni, which averaged 35.1 pounds butterfat from 11.06 pound average of milk. The above figures are submitted by Stuart Lambie, official tester of the association.

Double Star, a cow owned by Park Tubbs, produced 60.3 pounds butterfat from 17.73 pounds of milk during the period to lead the association in individual production. Her test was 2.1. Charles Wussow owned the cow with the highest test, however. His animal produced 55.5 pounds butterfat from 15.5 pounds milk for a test of 3.8. Incidentally, the mark was good for second high individual production record. Guy Daniels, Levi Schmeichel and William Schmidt each owned a cow which tested above 4 per cent for the month.

STATE PRODUCES ITS OWN HONEY

Beekeeping Industry in Wisconsin Has Made Rapid Strides

Madison—The growth of the beekeeping industry in the state has been such that practically all the honey consumed in the state is now produced here, according to H. F. Wilson, bee expert at the university.

"About 12,000 to 15,000 Wisconsin people keep less bees which range from a few colonies to 400 to 500 colonies," Mr. Wilson declared. "Between 10 and 15 per cent of these die during the winter. The main cause of the deaths is dysentery, due to the fact that the stores are not good," he asserts.

The amount of honey produced in Wisconsin each year is between six and ten million pounds, according to Mr. Wilson. Hundreds of pounds are used to be shipped into the state each year, but the state production has now developed to the extent of supplying Wisconsin's honey market entirely without outside produce. ## SCHLAFER HARDWARE CO. DISTRIBUTES THOMPSON VALVES

The Schlafer Hardware Company, wholesalers of automotive equipment, announce that they have become distributors in this territory for Thompson automobile engine valves.

By distributing Thompson valves, the local company forms a connection with the automotive industry's oldest and largest producer of original equipment valves, supplying the bulk of factory equipment for over eighty makes of cars, trucks, tractors and motorcycles, and also Curtiss, Wright and other aero-engines.

The success of the Thompson valve is due largely, it is claimed to the fact that it was developed to resist increased strains imposed on this part by the modern automobile engine. Trends in motor design have given the car owner a much more efficient engine, but one which inflicts greater punishment on valves. To gain lightness or weight, for instance, metal areas which once acted as cooling mediums have been eliminated, so that it is not uncommon in normal service for valves to run red hot for hours at a time. This has a severe burning, warping and rapid-wearing effect and often destroys the sealing efficiency of ordinary valves in a few hours.

Ability to resist such engine conditions enables the all-steel one-piece Thompson part to operate at maximum efficiency on an average four times longer between regrinds, maintaining full motor power and compression a correspondingly longer period.

Entering the replacement market, about two years ago, Thompson Products realized the importance of providing the service field with valves for all makes of engines, whether "orphan" or current models. Accordingly, the Thompson catalog includes over one thousand different numbers, all of which are stocked in ample quantities for immediate shipment. This 100% service policy, combined with the remarkable performance of the valve and its wide endorsement by automobile engineers, accounts largely for the establishment of national distribution and a big export volume in less than twenty-four months.

value this amounts to about $1,500,000 a year.

The bee industry is well distributed throughout the state, the main localities are in the counties of Milwaukee, Washington, Fond du Lac, Sheboygan, Winnebago, Outagamie, Brown, Manitowish and Calumet. With the exception of the center of the state which is sandy, the rest of the state is good beekeeping territory, since the bees live for the most part on white clover.

In the winter the bees are put in bee cellars or out of doors in winter packing cases. They eat honey during the winter and feed the young a mixture of pollen and honey. Dysentery which causes many to die in the winter, especially after long confinement may be avoided by feeding the bees in the early autumn with food made from cane sugar and housing them in well ventilated hives kept warm and dry. Mr. Wilson declared.

OHIO FARMS COSTLY TO RUN AS SMALL BANKS

It takes as much capital to run a 125-acre farm in Ohio as it does to run a small country bank, according to rural economists at the Ohio State University. "More than 80 per cent of the investment," explains J. F. Dowler, one of the economists, "is in land and buildings. The rest is working capital. After the land and buildings are acquired, it is the efficiency with which the working capital is used that largely determines the farm income."

SHRUB PLANNING DESCRIBED FOR 'HOME BUILDERS'

Landscape Gardner Is Speaker at Last Meeting of Builders

Proper planning of lawns and gardens make possible out-of-door living quarters during the summer months which is to be desired by every home owner, Donald Bushey, Appleton landscape gardener, said in discussing planning and planting of grounds at the final meeting of the Home Builders class Monday evening at the Y. M. C. A. Mr. Bushey used a blackboard to show diagrams of placement of houses and other buildings which would bring about the best artistic effect.

The speaker also pointed out the most satisfactory arrangements for shrubs and flower borders. He said that the most satisfactory manner of separating the lawn from the garden was by a double hedge the part toward the lawn being flower bearing bushes or shrubs and the part toward the garden being fruit bearing plants or bushes.

The latter part of Mr. Bushey's talk was accompanied by a series of lantern slides from the National Cash Register Co. of Dayton, Ohio, showing how a sum district had been transferred into a beautiful residence district and garden spot by means of careful planning, building and planting by the cash register company.

After Mr. Bushey's talk C. L. Boynton, activities secretary of the Y. M. C. A. spoke briefly on finishing hardware, cautioning against spoiling a home by using cheap hardware to finish it with. He discussed the difference in the quality of plated steel, wrought bronze and cast bronze hardware.

CAN GROW ONLY THRU SERVICE, NEW CLUB TOLD

Fourteen Men Attend Initial Meeting of New Service Organization

"It is only through service that we grow," declared Herb Helig, director of Appleton Vocational school in a talk on service at the initial meeting of the newly formed Y's Mens club Monday evening at the Y. M. C. A. Fourteen men were present. The organization will be completed at the next meeting on Monday, April 5.

Mr. Helig said that a body of men not organized for some special service cannot continue to function as a well organized society. Those organizations which are giving service and helping other people grow and flourish, he said. He further demonstrated this point by tracing the history of nations and pointing out that those that gave service to other nations of the world always prospered while those that existed only for selfish purposes inevitably went down to destruction.

The club will not be formally organized until next Monday, as those interested in the society wish to give others another week to become charter members of the organization. Frank Sager is acting as temporary chairman. A letter received at the Y. M. C. A. from Superior, stated that the organization of a Y's Mens club was being planned in that city.

With the formation of a club in Superior there will be four Y's Mens organizations in the state, at the Milwaukee, Green Bay, Appleton and Superior associations.

Let Tanlac restore your health

If your body is all fagged-out and run down, if you are losing weight steadily, lack appetite, have no strength or energy—why not let Tanlac help you back to health and strength?

So many millions have been benefited by the Tanlac treatment, so many thousands have written to testify to that effect that it's sheer folly not to make the test.

Tanlac, you know, is a great natural tonic and builder, a compound, after the famous Tanlac formula, of roots, barks and herbs. It purges the blood stream, revitalizes the digestive organs and enables the sickly body to regain its vanished weight.

You don't need to wait long to get results. Tanlac goes right to the seat of trouble. In a day or so you note a vast difference in your condition. You have more appetite, sleep better at night and the color begins to creep back into your washed-out cheeks.

Don't put off taking Tanlac another precious day. Step into the nearest drug store and get a bottle of this world-famous tonic. That's the first important step back to health and vigor. Every day's delay means unnecessary suffering, for Tanlac starts to clean out and tone up the system right away. And by acting promptly you will avoid further loss of energy

GRANGE OPPOSES DRY LAW CHANGE

Fear Modification Would Seriously Curtail Demand for Dairy Products

Neenah—A resolution presented by Herman Inde, master of the state grange, at the meeting of the Winnebago council, pledged the council to support an educational campaign to bring home to the agricultural people, "the need of protecting their own industry instead of permitting it to come in direct competition with beer and booze and the brewing interests."

Asserting that the "wet" agitation sweeping across the country does not represent the true sentiment of the farmer and that the return of light beer and wine would be a blow to the dairy industry and agriculture as a whole, the council went on record as opposing any modification of the Volstead act, pointing out that from the moral standpoint many of the rural sections were dry even before prohibition. From a business point of view, the members felt a return of beer and wine would materially check the sale of milk, ice cream and other dairy products.

The resolution was signed by Herman Inde, Louis Sorenson, Clarence Slaton, J. W. Armstrong, Ganum Washbourne and William Nelson.

OPERA STAR WRITES JAZZ COMEDY SCORE

Tampa, Fla.—(P)—Occasionally a grand opera star places the stamp of approval upon jazz. Tito Schipa, one of the world's greatest tenors, has gone a step further. He is writing a musical comedy in which syncopation runs riot.

A tentative score of this comedy, said Schipa while on a concert stop here, is now in the hands of Gene Buck, impresario of Ziegfeld's Follies. His title is to be "Mimi".

Schipa was careful to explain that he does not consider jazz the highest type of music. However, he looks upon devotees of jazz as true followers of Pan, and sees in the saxophone a medium for interpretation of real harmony.

"The saxophone in grand opera, why not?" he asked. "Have you heard the saxophone in interpretations of the score of Madame Butterfly? Was it not beautiful, colorful, harmonious, stirring? Yes. Were there not one, two, three, maybe, saxophones contributing to a theme of exquisite beauty?"

"I will tell you something, music. What is it? It is harmony and any instrument that blends into a perfect symphony of sound cannot be less than beautiful."

The saxophone, the banjo, when used in truly expressing emotions, are a part of music, too."

The tenor thinks there are possibilities for the advancement and popularizing of grand opera through the medium of radio.

"It will augment rather than decrease attendance at performances," he said. "Someone hears an artist over the radio. Hears, but sees not. Perhaps they will not be content, hearing. Some will want to glimpse something of the personality behind the voice."

PARKER HOUSE RELICS PRESERVED FOR FUTURE

Boston—(P)—Although the Parker House, Boston's historic hostelry and birthplace of the "Parker House Roll," is giving way to wreckers, several of its traditional sections may be preserved by faithful friends as relics of the past.

Plans call for the restoration of the mirror room—the big main floor dining room—in its entirety. This may be set up in an inn, not far from Boston.

Restoration of the crystal room, the noted banquet hall, also is under consideration. It may become the salon of a retail establishment.

Some of the mantels and other interior furnishings have been sold as relics. The finishing of the reading room, the writing room and the second floor ladies room have been preserved so that these mahogany rooms

Few of the landmarks of Boston are richer in memories than this vanishing ruin. Charles Dickens passed a winter under its roof and his rooms have been maintained as a literary shrine. In 1875, President Grant and several members of his Cabinet were guests there. Among others were Patti, Bernhardt, Ada Rehan, Henry Irving, Edwin Booth, Mansfield and Clara Louise Kellogg.

The Parker House has played a large part in the politics, business and social life of Boston.

Hanna's Candidacy Calls Ford Peace Ship To Mind

BY CHARLES P. STEWART
Washington—Now comes the news that Louis B. Hanna of Fargo is a candidate for the North Dakota United States senatorship now held by Gerald P. Nye of Cooperstown.

Dispatches mention Hanna as an ex-member of the national house of representatives, an ex-governor of North Dakota, an ex-Red Cross official, a bank president, and "L.L.D." a Congressionalist, a Mason, the proud possessor of the Norwegian grand cross (first rank) of St. Olaf and manager of the North Dakota Coolidge campaign in 1924.

But dispatches omit the juiciest detail in the entire collection. Hanna was one of the very, very few rational individuals who, by pure accident, went to Europe in 1915 with the Ford peace expedition.

Now the rational folks along with that expedition were the funniest part of it. The peace nuts were plain nutty and you expected 'em to act that way. But the rational ones, as soon as they realized what they were mixed up in, were wild to get out of it, so to stop being made to look ridiculous.

But how could they? They were in the middle of the North Atlantic. They were stuck for two weeks of it anyway. They didn't relish even two weeks of that kind of adventure.

It's easy to see how Hanna was hooked. He was governor at the time. He got an invitation and it looked natural to him that he should get it, on the strength of his position.

He was away out in North Dakota, where he didn't realize what a collection of freaks was being assembled for the peace drive. He had an idea it was going to be an aggregation of honest-to-goodness notabilities, with whom it would be creditable to him to be associated.

Apparently it was going to be a nice trip, too—free, likewise.

So Hanna asked Editor Sam Clark of Jim Jam Jems to accompany him.

WANT NEENAH MAN TO BE FREED FROM HOSPITAL

Neenah—A hearing is being conducted in municipal court in Oshkosh Tuesday on the question of appointing a guardian to look after affairs of Gottfried Ulrich of this city. Mr. Ulrich had been in the meat market business in this city for the last 40 years up to a month ago when he was committed to the Northern hospital. A large number of businessmen, acquaintances of Mr. Ulrich, have been attempting to secure his release from the institution on the grounds that he is not insane. An attempt will be made to have him placed in a sanitarium if he is released.

solicitous messages, which made Sam sore.

Well, in due season, as Hanna was convalescing, the peace party, too, landed in Copenhagen, and proceeded, in a body, to the Palads Hotel, the swiftest, in town, led by the Rev. Dr. Jenkin Lloyd Jones, a very prominent "peacemaker" with a full set of old-fashioned, long, white whiskers.

At the hotel desk stood Sam. "Ah, Mr. Clark," boomed the "doc" in his deep, pulpit voice. "How's Gov. Hanna?"

"A heck of a lot you care!" cried Sam passionately. And with that he pulled the doctor's whiskers, in the presence of everybody.

The YELLOW STUB

by Ernest Lynn

BEGIN HERE TODAY
JIMMY RAND, middle-aged business man, is expected home to help celebrate his son JIMMY'S 27th birthday. The gathering includes Jimmy, his sister JANET, his mother, and BARRY COLVIN, Janet's fiancé.

While they are waiting, police phone that Henry Rand is dead in a cheap hotel. The body is found in a gas-filled room, a small well on the back of the head.

The only clue are a woman's handkerchief and the stub of a yellow theater ticket.

Janet Rand breaks her engagement with Colvin because of the "disgrace" Jimmy, learning that the stub is from the Paragon Theater in Milwaukee, goes there with DETECTIVE MOONEY. They learn that the ticket is a permanent reservation in the name of THOMAS FOGARTY.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER VII

"All right, Mooney," Jimmy slapped the detective on the back. "We'll go down to Mr. Fogarty's hotel and let him try to explain this."

"Not so fast, not so fast," shot back Mooney. "For all of his surprise, he had been doing some rapid thinking. He turned to the ticket seller. 'Have you got two seats right behind this one for next Monday night?'"

"See what I can do." The young man began to scan through a stack of tickets. "Here you are—seats 30 and 31 in Row I. Just what you want. By the way, has Big Tom Fogarty got into a jam?"

"I'm not saying, brother," Mooney reached for the tickets and tossed a bill through the grating.

The ticket seller flushed. "None of my business, of course, but if you can get anything on, Fogarty you'll be the first one that's been able to do it."

"Yeah? Well, they all make mistakes sometimes," Mooney pocketed the tickets. He turned to Jimmy. "We're not showing our hand to Fogarty yet. We'll have a chance to find out a few things about him and Monday night we'll get a good look at him."

They turned away from the window, leaving the clerk ablaze with curiosity.

"Why wait?" Jimmy asked Mooney. "Fogarty's the man we're looking for. Why give him a chance to get away?" "He's not running away," declared Mooney. "I know the kind of gent we're dealing with, and I'm not talking to him until I have something more to go on."

"We want something more to go on," Mooney had said. Well, they had it. What they learned about Fogarty was sufficient, in Jimmy's mind, to put him behind the bars for a lengthy stay.

"Crooked as a snake," declared Mooney, after a talk of several hours with a friend in the Milwaukee detective bureau.

"A ward heeling politician and the best little vote buyer that ever threw an election. Mixed up in a lot of high pressure bootlegging and suspected of knowing a lot about one or two high-jack murders. But they can't get a thing on him. We've heard a lot about that bird back in Grafton."

"Got plenty of money and plenty of influence. A professional bondsman, too."

They had gone later to the Mayfair Hotel, where Mooney had learned the number of Fogarty's room and promptly had learned from a chambermaid that Fogarty had not slept in his room the previous Tuesday night.

"That was the night before your father's murder," said Mooney. "The night this H. A. Jones of New York, registered at the Connell Hotel. It might not mean a thing and then again it might. This fellow Fogarty's been living in the same hotel for five years and the maid says he's often out at night."

"Still, it's something for him to explain. We've got the stub of the theater ticket he bought and he's got to account for that, too. You see, Rand, it doesn't pay to rush at things too fast. Now when we see Fogarty he'll have to have a pretty light little story to work himself loose. You wanted to clump down on him with just the ticket to go on."

The little detective smiled at his own cleverness. Jimmy couldn't help admiring him.

Mooney, it seemed, had some other work on his hands in Milwaukee. There was an automobile theft case which the chief had told him to look into while he was there.

"Killing two birds with one stone," smiled Mooney. "We've gone pretty near as far as we can now until we see Fogarty. I'll be busy Sunday and part of Monday. Suppose we get together Monday afternoon and plan our reception for Mr. Fogarty. That'll give you Monday morning to look around for that job you were talking about. That is," he added with a wink, "if you still think you'll be here long enough to need one."

"I'm beginning to think it might not be necessary," Jimmy answered. "Although this Fogarty thing looks almost too good to be true."

Sunday morning Jimmy sent a telegram to his mother and sister: "Feeling fine and making progress. Write to me." He sent along his address.

The day passed swiftly. In the evening he hunted up a church. Slipping into an empty pew he sat listening to the organ while the church gradually filled up. He reached for a hymn book and idly skimmed through it. Most of the hymns were familiar to him—Janet used to play them on Sunday evenings at home.

He became gradually aware of a girl sitting just across the aisle from him. He could see her profile. The thought occurred to him that he would like to be an artist long enough to paint it. Her nose, slightly up-turned, and her firm little chin seemed so clearly etched against the background of light. . . . He could not see her eyes, and the small hat she wore hid most of her hair. What he could see of it was black and straight and bobbed. . . . Her whole pose seemed to him to fit naturally into a church background.

They were praying. He found himself on his knees, not listening to the regular prayer, but praying of his own accord. When he looked up he glanced involuntarily across the aisle. The girl was looking at him. He half expected to see amusement in her eyes and flushed slightly. Instead, he could have sworn there was sympathy, and understanding. She turned her eyes away and Jimmy noticed that they were blue, with heavy black lashes. . . .

He had walked for perhaps half a block before he became dimly conscious that she was walking ahead of him. He wondered, half guiltily whether she might not suspect him of following her—there was no one else near.

He was about to turn around when he saw an automobile pass him and then slow down when it reached her.

New Way to Stop Night Coughing

Simple Method Brings Quick Relief

For almost instant relief from hacking, irritating, sleep-robbing night coughing there is a very simple treatment which, often with a single dose, stops all irritation and permits sound sleep the whole night through.

This treatment is based on the prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs. You simply take one teaspoonful at bed-time and hold it in the throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it. The prescription has a double action. It not only soothes and heals soreness and irritation, but it quickly removes the phlegm and congestion which are the real cause of night coughing. People who have not slept well for nights are often surprised how quickly this simple method checks coughing and banishes the entire cough condition completely.

Dr. King's New Discovery is for coughs, chest colds, sore throat, hoarseness, bronchitis, spasmodic croup, etc. Fine for children as well as grown-ups—no harmful drugs. Economical, too, as this dose is only one teaspoonful. At all good druggists. Ask for to accommodate itself to her gait. He could see two young men in the front seat. One of them was speaking to her.

She drew away to the inside of the sidewalk and quickened her pace. The automobile kept even with her. She stopped then and glanced around.

She was plainly distressed. He hurried. One of the men was getting out of the car.

Jimmy was beside her. "Sorry to keep you waiting," he said hurriedly, lifting his hat. "I was delayed inside." He wondered whether he was "getting away" with his bluff. He wasn't

Controversy Is Submitted to Condemnation Proceedings in Oshkosh

Because of the failure of Winnebago co highway committee and John Lynch to agree on the amount to be paid by Winnebago co for right-of-way for extension of S. looking for trouble. He suddenly thought of Janet.

He saw that he wasn't fooling the man who was getting out of the car. He was handsome in a way, but a loose-lipped mouth spoiled what otherwise would have been a down right good looking face.

"What a smooth worker you are," he sneered to Jimmy. "Come on, sister, hop in."

Jimmy edged over toward the curb. "Beat it," he said quietly. "Let's take a trick at the wise guy."

The man at the wheel was climbing out, too. Jimmy could smell liquor. He stiffened. Suddenly he lashed out with his fist and caught the nearest man flush on the chin. (To Be Continued)

Lynch were near an agreement but, according to Mr. Lynch, the deal fell through because of a misunderstanding concerning the ownership of land which would form the boulevard in the wide concrete apron which is to join Foster-st with S. Cherry-st. It is understood that Mr. Lynch wished to retain ownership of this tract of land but the county would not consent. There also was a disagreement over moving two of Lynch's buildings from the proposed right-of-way and over fencing of the road to protect Lynch's livestock.

matter to avoid condemnation proceedings but the differences were so great that an agreement could not be reached. Mr. Lynch has said that he has no disposition to block the extension of S. Cherry-st but he does want to be adequately paid for the damages the road through his property will cause. The difference of opinion, it is said, is over the damages which will result from bisecting the farm with the highway.

Adventures Of The Twins

The Tangle

Corny Coon Wakens His Uncle

Ringtail Coon was quietly and peacefully sleeping. His nose white tail with big black rings around it, had slipped from under the bed clothes and trailed to the floor.

The Twins and the March Hare and Ringtail's two nephews, Corny and Cobby from the other side of the woods, stood looking at him, but he was dreaming dreams of moonlight nights and fields of sweet young corn as big as oceans. At that minute he was deciding whether to try an ear of tender, ivory yellow instant corn, or an ear of juicy, sweet, pearly country Gentleman corn.

He kept licking his lips and sniffing in his sleep, until the Twins laughed out loud.

But it didn't wake him up. No, sir! He was sleeping too soundly for that.

"Ringtail!" said the March Hare sharply, looking at his watch. "Wake up, Ringtail! It's half past a quarter to the year after next almost, and here you are dispracing the whole place. Don't you know that spring is coming and that you can't be seen until you have a hair-cut and a shave and a good bath? (Come along, sir!) I just can't tell which I like the best," said Ringtail, whacking his head on the floor. "Yellow instant is certainly fine, and the grains are so nice and big they don't get in your teeth, but Country Gentleman is so juicy and tender and sweet, it's like eating sugar. I just can't decide."

"Whatever as I going to do with him?" cried the March Hare crossly. "Whatever shall I do? Rubadub is waiting to barber him up—everything ready, lather and all. And here is snoozing like old Tip Van Winkle who didn't wake up for twenty years."

Just then Corny poked Cobby Coon in the ribs. "I'll bet you can wake him up, don't you, Cobby?" he said. "We know how to wake up Uncle Ring, so we do."

"How?" said Nick and Nancy who were having the best kind of a time over the whole affair.

But the March Hare wasn't having such a good time. He felt responsible for all the wood people looking their very best when they presented themselves in the Land-Where-Spring-Was-Coming.

"Yes, how?" he asked snappishly. "How can you waken this lazy old dude of an uncle of yours?"

Corny didn't answer, but went over to Mister Coon's bureau and pulled out the top drawer.

"Oh, Cobby!" he called loudly. "I think I'll borrow one of Uncle Ring's neckties. Which one do you like best, the green one with the purple crabs all over it or the one with the pink fish and yellow mice?"

"I like the fish and mouse necktie the best," called back Cobby. "It always makes me hungry."

"All right then, I'll take the one with the crabs on it," shouted Corny. "And I think I'll borrow his best silk shirt with the red, white and blue stripes. It's very becoming to me. Do you want to borrow one too?"

And Corny pulled out the drawer that Mister Coon kept his shirts in. It was sort of stuck and made a good bit of noise.

"Who's there? Who's after my clothes?" said Ringtail suddenly, sitting up in bed and peering out of sleepy eyes.

"Ah! It's you two young rascals, isn't it? Get right out of here this minute, you robbers, always borrowing my stuff without a by-your-leave."

Corny meekly shut the drawer. "I thought that would waken you," he said saucily.

"Say, Mister Coon," said the March Hare, "we've had a time of it trying to get you awake. Do you know that spring is here, nearly, and you have to get all barbered up? Rubadub, the fairman is waiting for you under in Scrub-Up-Land right now."

"Thank you, I'll go at once," said Ringtail obediently hopping out of bed. "I'm much obliged, I'm sure."

VALLEY SCHOOLS START WORK FOR TRACK MEET

Contests Sponsored By Lawrence College Will Be Held Here On May 15

Numerous Prizes Awarded by Local College; Expect at Least Seven Entries

With the basketball suits of every Fox river valley conference cage squad no securely packed in the mothballs, the schools are starting to turn their attention toward track. The annual valley conference meet held in Appleton on May 15 is the big goal. The meet is sponsored by Lawrence college and will be held for the first time in 1926 on the new George A. Whiting field, considered one of the best in the midwest. The meets of the last few years have been run on the old Lawrence field, many unfavorable conditions existed especially last year when both track and field athletes had to climb through pools of mud and water to compete in their events. Even at that many records were broken so that all indications show that the competition is getting harder each year.

A few years ago there was no track work in the valley so that the sudden improvement might well add more glory to Lawrence college's fine athletic record, for the Blue school brought the meet into being and nursed it along to its present stage. Plans to enlarge it to take in smaller valley schools as Kaukauna, Menasha, Neenah and others in a class of their own may be tried by Blue authorities in a few years.

Appleton, Manitowish, Fond du Lac, Sheboygan, East Green Bay, West Green Bay, Marinette and Oshkosh are the schools which comprise the valley conference and which are likely to enter the Lawrence track program. In fact all of the schools named with the exception of Fond du Lac, have already signified their intentions of entering complete teams in the meet.

At Fond du Lac the main question seems to be whether track or baseball shall be the major spring sport at the high school. If the Cardinal town officials decide to take up track work, it will mean that the competition will be just that much more exciting and the results closer in the Lawrence meet because the Pountain City athletes are not novices in the spiked shoes.

At the Lawrence meet last year, every record of the previous season, except two ways broke. The officials in charge of the meet are expecting that several records will be made this year when the high school athletes perform.

It has been announced that medals will be given to the first, second and third place winners in each event. There will be a cup for the team winning the relay race. An appropriate trophy will be given to the team which wins the meet and the medal will be awarded to the individual athlete who scores the high number of points.

Philadelphia—Ernie Jarvis, Englewood, was awarded the decision over Eddie Leonard, Baltimore (8).

Danville, Ill.—Eddie Stover gained a technical decision over Joe Watkins, Columbus, Ind. (7). Jack Vickers, Kaukauna, knocked out Ned Mitchell, Indianapolis, (2).

President Of Valley Loop Demands Respect For Ump

BY C. L. PRE FONTAINE

President, Fox River Valley League

"One of the most important cogs in a well organized baseball league are the umpires. Often the remark is made, 'the umpire robbed us of the game.' How prone we are to criticize and not reflect!

"If particular pains were taken to ask why this and that decision were made we would find it was not lack of knowledge by the umpire, but wrong conclusions upon the part of the objector that caused the fuss. It is a fact that many objectors to decisions are themselves lame on the rules of the game. One objector makes another and the mob instinct prevails. Some even claim that they pay their money to 'razz' the umpire. It is a part of the game providing the 'kidding' goes no further than mere good-natured criticism and not continual nagging a man who is conscientiously performing his duty.

"Nothing spoils a good ball game more than incessant nagging by players and fans. A flock of players running out to question this and that decision and chattering around the umpire makes the game look like a child's contest. After an umpire has made his decision, if based upon the rules of the game, there should be no further comment. If it is a question of a bad strike or ball—it is the umpire's decision and it is his power to enforce it.

"The prevalence in the minors of late years has been to bring their 'peevish' to the president. They have found a 'listening' year, the umpires report has been found in many an instance to contain but little of interest for the executive. However, in the Fox River Valley League, strict adherence to rules will be demanded of the umpires by the president. The matter of rolling strikes and balls as he sees them will be left entirely to the man calling them, and he shall be expected to be calling them as he sees them, giving the corners to the pitchers, and

Neenah "N" Club Praises Orange Five

WILL YOU BE THERE OPENING DAY?

Will you be there? Will you be one of the lucky lads to come up to the Post-Crescent office and get a hat, ball or mitt after Thursday? Will you be one of the boys to be at the opening game in one of the eight cities noted above?

Yes, you'll have a chance to win the prizes and to attend one of the opening big league this if you enroll in the Favorite Player Contest being conducted by the Post-Crescent and NEA Service Inc. of Cleveland.

And—should you win, you're certain of being on hand when ye umpire bellers out, "PLAY BALL!" All you have to do is select your favorite American or National League player, write a 200-word story telling the reason for your selection and mail or bring it to the Sport Editor, Post-Crescent.

A trip, an opening day big league game, a chance to see your idol in action, shake hands with him and present him a silver cup right at home plate, before a capacity-filled ball park, await the winner in each league and Tails, bats and mits!

Want More National Loop Entries In Post-Crescent Favorite Player Contest

Three National League Prizes May Have to Be Held Up; Contest Ends Wednesday

WEDNESDAY IS THE LAST DAY. Any boy of Appleton or vicinity who has not battled in the Post-Crescent Favorite Player contest by midnight on Wednesday loses his chance at the prizes, the bats, balls and mits offered to the winners of the contest and perhaps a chance to see an opening day ball game in a big league city! While entries have come in quite rapidly lately there still is a chance for many prizes. In fact we have hardly enough National League entries though there are several from the American loop. A decision by the sport staff of the Post-Crescent makes it possible that only three prizes will be awarded. If not enough National loop entries are in to win the three prizes for that league, they will not be awarded but will be held over for the next contest. So, BOYS! GET YOUR NATIONAL LEAGUE FAVORITE IN, and win one of the prizes that might otherwise be held over. Any boy 16 years old or under is eligible. Just fill in the blank on the Sport Page, write a 200 word letter on your favorite player and wait for a Babe Ruth bat, Eddie Russell mitt, or Goldsmith ball to come your way. Perhaps you also may win a trip to an opening game on April 13, all expenses paid and yourself well chaperoned. In this case you will shake hands with your favorite ball player and present him with a beautiful silver cup. All for a few minutes' time, a little ink and paper!

The widespread popularity of the contest is shown by the entries received by the Sport Editor of the Post-Crescent.

Cities and villages all over the county and even outside the county are responding so that not Appleton alone is in the fight for the prizes. Among the places represented to date are Appleton, Neenah, route 1, Appleton, Bear Creek, Hortonville, Appletonville, Kaukauna. So get going boys, Thursday will be too late, let's get that home!

TUESDAY GAMES

8 p. m.—Citizens Bank vs Neenah Kimberly-Clark.

9 p. m.—Riverside Paper Co. vs Galpin Hardware.

MORE

Two hard games are scheduled for Tuesday evening in the Y. M. C. A. Industrial Basketball League when the Citizens Bank five clashes with the Neenah "K" boys in the cage and the Riverside Paper Co. crew, the surprise of the loop, meets the undefeated leaders, the Galpin Hardware in the feature battle. Monday evening in a postponed game, the Menasha Print and Carton Co. quint shot into third place on the heels of the second-place Fox River Paper squad, by a win from the Kimberly Club, five, cellar doggers. The win showed the Neenah "K" squad down to fourth and this crew has a chance of getting back to third by a win Tuesday night. They then will move closer on the heels of the Fox River men.

Citizens Bank and Riverside are in a tie for fifth place, close to fourth, that the tie will be broken if one team wins and the other loses. The loser will go down to sixth place and the winner shoot up close to fourth. Both will do this if both win. Neenah "K" is favored to beat the Bankers, but this crew surprised everyone by finishing a close second to the Kimberly Athletics in the northeast district meet. Two Bank stars have had ankles and may not be in suits, however.

The second game should be a "hot" battle. The Riverside crew has come from the bottom to a 50-50 mark in a few weeks, beating some of the best teams in the loop including the weak Neenah "K" squad. They are "on" and are playing ball hard for any loop team to beat.

The Galpin crew is undefeated and on top and the surprise, Riverside are the best team in the loop to upset the done and beat them, if they are "on." The battle also is a grudge affair because of a past game. With Hilton and Bieker going good, this game should be the best of the week.

Appleton Girls Win FROM NEENAH PINMEN

FRIENDLY RIVALS COMMEND PLAY OF LOCAL SQUAD

Christophmen Say Appleton Must Be Proud of Its "Hard-luck" Fighting Team

Praise from the home town boosters is always sweet to a local athlete team, but the highest type of praise any team can receive is that from a clean, sportsmanlike rival, a rival who battles to win all season in every sportsmanlike manner, but who is quick to appreciate the fight made by an opponent, and also is quick to let the opponent know about it.

While on the whole Appleton fans appreciate the great showing made by the 1926 high school basketball team at Madison some still moan because the boys couldn't get the title.

Perhaps the best piece of appreciative sportsmanship from a rival that has ever been received by the Post-Crescent is contained in a letter received from the Neenah "N" club, a group unexcelled in that quality.

Neenah lost a tough last half game to Appleton at Neenah early in the season and then came back with a victory here. Both games were clean and hard-fought without a whimper as to the results on either side. The Christophmen had tough breaks at Oshkosh and lost a chance at the state title. Praise from a WORTHY foe, is praise indeed!

Here's what that fine group of sportsmen from the little city of Neenah, always one of Appleton's most feared yet most-liked rivals, had to say about the 1926 Orangemen in a letter sent to the Sport Editor of the Post-Crescent:

Neenah, Wis., March 29, 1926.

Appleton Post-Crescent, Appleton, Wis. Gentlemen:

Appleton must and should be proud of its fighting basketball team. A team that is forced to undergo all the hard luck such as the Macmen have been forced to undergo all season and yet finish with a fine record for the season, top the district meet and reach the semi-finals in the state meet, certainly deserves as much praise as the championship team itself if not more.

All praise to Appleton High Basketball team, a team of fighters.

NEENAH "N" CLUB.

The hearing was before the house, rivers and harbors committee.
If diversion had not already been allowed, Newton D. Baker, representing the Lake Carries association, said such a suggestion would be "unthinkable and preposterous."

MONTANA MAY BE DAIRY RIVAL OF WISCONSIN
Montana, if properly developed, within a few years, will be able to rival Wisconsin as the leading dairy state in the union, declared the Rev. Henry Gately, rector of All Saints Episcopal church, in a talk at the Lions club luncheon Monday noon at Conway hotel. Mr. Gately lived in Missoula, Mont. before coming to Appleton.
The speaker said that the climate in Missoula was very moderate as evidenced by the fact that no temperature as low as zero had been recorded there this winter. This is contrary to the popular conception in the east and middle west that Montana is one of the coldest states in the country, he said.
In describing the area of Montana Mr. Gately said the state was about the same size as the entire kingdom of Japan. The population of Japan, however, exceeds 100,000,000 while that of Montana is not yet 1,000,000 he said.
The closing was weak. Total sales approximated 3,000,000 shares.

PUBLIC HAS PART OF BLAME FOR CRIME WAVE
Frankfort, Ky.—(AP)—The public is held by some inmates of the Kentucky State Reformatory to be in a measure responsible for the prevalence of crime.
A story in the Mutual Welfare League Courier, a magazine published by the institution, says that the unfriendly attitude of the public toward convicts released on expiration of their term is a great factor in inducing the convict "to follow the path of crime, or the line of least resistance."
"If people would stop and consider the other fellow," the story declares, "give him a helping hand, a friendly smile, the population of corrective institutions would not be so great. There would be less crime and more respect for law and order."

Recover Losses After First Hour, Then Fall to New Low Levels
New York—(AP)—Further liquidation developed at the opening of Tuesday's market, carrying prices irregularly lower. Postum Cereal broke 3 1/2 points on the first sale and Woolworth 2, both to new low records for the year. Buying support was apparent in a few issues, American Can opening a point higher and General Motors and Hudson improving fractionally on initial sales.
Powerful speculative forces continued to battle for control of the market, with the bull element, however, having much the best of the contest, despite a raid on Hudson Motors, which dropped from 78 1/2 to 74 1/2, a new low figure for the year. Although the market continued to reflect a considerable volume of distressed selling, it was confined largely to the ordinarily inactive shares. American express dropped six points, Commercial Solvents "B" 2 1/2 and Southern Railway "A" 3 points. On the other hand gains of two points vote of the students. She is a junior.

MINNESOTA SYMPHONY HAS WOMAN VIOLINIST
Minneapolis—(AP)—Disregarding conventions which have ruled out women from many ranking symphony orchestras in the United States, Miss Jennie Cullen, a first violinist, continues her post as the only woman player in the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra of eighty-seven pieces.
The fact that she occupies a first row position near the conductor's stand is not altogether the result of courtesy to her, for Miss Cullen is one of the ten first violinists with the symphony. She has appeared several times as soloist at the Sunday "popular" concerts.
Miss Cullen, for many years was concert-master of the famous State Symphony Orchestra of Sydney, Australia. Previous to that she was a playing member of the renowned Scottish Orchestra of Glasgow, Scotland.

PRESIDENT WISHES BYRD SAFE FLIGHT
New York—(AP)—Lieut. Commander Richard E. Byrd was here Tuesday with the personally offered best wishes of President Coolidge for the success of his airplane flight to the north pole.
Commander Byrd, who left Washington Monday night, will leave the Brooklyn navy yard next Monday on the shipping board steamer Monday on the expedition's first lay northward, carrying 11 persons and two aeroplanes. The Chantier will pick up an "ice skipper" at Thomsen, Norway, the only port at which she will call on her way to Kings Bay, Spitzbergen, the jumping off place.

PEOTTER POINTS TO EVASIONS OF BUILDING CODES

Milwaukee Lax in Enforcement of Its Laws, Appleton Building Inspector Says

"Milwaukee has hundreds of violations of the state building laws, especially the law governing the building of private and public garages," declared George E. Peotter, Appleton building inspector and acting secretary of the Wisconsin Building Officials, at the annual conference of the organization in Milwaukee Friday and Saturday. Convention sessions were held in the Republican hotel.

Mr. Peotter pointed out that the law defines a private garage as one to accommodate one or two cars and any building housing more than two cars as a public garage. He also said that the law requires that all public garages must be of brick or stone and that this provision had also been violated in many instances where frame buildings are housing more than two cars, automatically making them public garages.

The Appleton inspector also urged the support by all building inspectors of the bill now before the legislature requiring licensing of all contractors. "The public should realize the danger of unsafe construction by the contractors unqualified to erect buildings. The bill would require contractors to be examined by state officials to give evidence of their qualifications," Mr. Peotter said.

On Friday morning talks were given by William D. Harper, Milwaukee building inspector, on Development of Building Regulations; J. A. Dailey, Milwaukee, on Building Inspection from the Standpoint of the City Inspector; Charles F. Wheeler, Green Bay, a member of the state industrial commission on inspection from the standpoint of the State Inspector; Marcel Lambeau, Green Bay building inspector, on Securing Compliance with Building Ordinances and State Building Code Requirements.

At the Friday afternoon session A. Middleton, Milwaukee theater inspector, talked on Securing Safety in Theaters; J. M. Albers, Kenosha, told of building regulations in his city and Ole Norman, Superior fire chief, talked on The Fire Chief as a Building Inspector.

About 60 Wisconsin building inspectors attended the meeting. W. C. Muchlstein, Madison, president of the organization, presided.

ROAD PATROLMEN TO CARRY FLAGS

Highway Commission Takes Step to Reduce Highway Hazard

Madison—As a measure of safety both for the public and for road patrolmen, the state highway commission has decided that every patrolman in the future shall carry a red flag attached to his road grader at the rear and on the side toward the line of traffic, according to F. A. Cannon, executive secretary of good roads association of Wisconsin. This flag will be mounted on a steel base so that it can also be utilized by the patrolman when he is working at a spot on the road surface as a warning to traffic. J. T. Donaghy, state highway engineer, and N. M. Isabella, maintenance engineer, have been working on the problem for some time. A number of accidents have happened resulting in the injury of patrolmen who were operating graders or working on the road. In many instances drivers of cars have barely escaped collisions with a grader or patrolman. To avoid this it was decided that all patrolmen should carry these flags as danger warnings. About 5,000 flags will be necessary to equip all the patrolmen. Each flag will be of the standard type as used by railroads for danger signals, red in color.
